I was sad to see how poorly the Microsoft case was handled. They have more control over everything than IBM or PacBell did in the past which truly were handled properly with splitting the company. As more cases unravel including the Microsoft vs US Schools which resulted in the 1 billion dollar settlement all they got for monopoly was a slap on the hand and poor restraints. We are forced to use Microsoft, and we can't get away from it. They gauge us with their prices. Even the new XP version worse than all others including passport system which definitely steps upon general liberties. Did you know you can not get support without filling out passport information first?

Please fix Microsoft deal it is bad for our country - it will be a sad event when Europe handles case with more power and pressure it will certainly make us look like a passive judicial system. What was it, lack of understanding of the business and computers that caused the lenient judgment?

Judgment lacking substance, results

Thank you,
